

How to use this log file:

Print it out double-sided, and then fold it in half between the columns. You can have it so that either the camping or activity section comes first. Insert the folded sheet into the front of your Scout Handbook. It should slide in right behind the first page, and slip all the way into the binding. Use a bit of glue right at the folded edge to hold it in place. Once the glue sets, trim the corners (and edge, if necessary) to match the rest of the book.

This is a more convenient way to keep track of your campouts and Scout activities than scrawling notes in odd spaces throughout your handbook.

Enjoy, and pass it along.
